Relationship and Sex Education Policy

Approved by:	Governors
Last reviewed on:	September 2026
Next review due	September 2028 (or in light of any new legislation)

Introduction

The purpose of the policy is to outline how through our Relationship and Sex education (RSE) provision we aim to support our pupils social, moral, cultural and emotional development. Our focus is on developing our pupil's knowledge about health, relationships, emotional and mental wellbeing to support them to make the best possible decisions as they grow and change. We place the emphasis upon relationships, supporting pupils understanding and skill in developing positive and healthy relationships.

Our school's policy on relationship and sex education (RSE) is based on the requirements of the Education Act 2002 and the DfE document 'Sex and Relationship Education Guidance' (DfES 0116/2000). This continues to be the recommended SRE guidance under the current government (2015) and the revised DfE statutory guidance (2018) currently under consultation to be implemented from September 2020.

Aims

We teach children about:

- Respectful relationships and respecting others even if they are different from ourselves;
- Healthy relationships including online safety and where to seek help;
- All families are equal;
- Being safe-respecting and being in control of their own bodies;
- Scientific anatomical names for parts of the body;
- How bodies change-physical development and puberty as approach adulthood;

Context

We want our pupils to develop healthy positive behaviours that will support them through life. Our RSE policy encompasses our schools core values and British Values are also at the forefront. We are committed to safeguarding all children and our provision of RSE supports this commitment. We provide children with the opportunity to learn about healthy relationships, respect for themselves and where to seek help if needed. We aim to equip children with the knowledge and skills to make safe positive decisions through life.

All pupils will be offered the same sex and relationship education curriculum entitlement tailored to their individual need and stage of emotional development. It is our aim to offer all pupils the opportunity to develop their potential within an atmosphere which values each individual as unique and worthy of respect. We use an inclusive, whole school approach to ensure RSE can be accessed in an age-appropriate way throughout a child's school career.

Organisation

We teach RSE through our PSHE curriculum and where appropriate through our science curriculum. Leyland St James uses the SCARF scheme, overseen and led by James Atherton (Headteacher, PSHE lead). The scheme is adapted to meet the children's needs.

In PSHE we use PSHE Association programme of study to build our curriculum. We cover;

- Families, how they are all different and all are to be valued;
- Positive relationships and friendships;
- Respecting ourselves and others-exploring how our behaviour can impact on others;
- Being safe, online and in the outside world;
- Appropriate relationships, how bodies belong to the individual and to how identify appropriate physical contact and where to go if they feel unsafe;
- How males and females are different and scientifically correct names for body parts;
- How bodies grow and change and what happens to bodies during puberty.

We aim to support children's emotional development and the children are encouraged to ask questions and are taught where to go if help is needed.

Through our Science Curriculum; teachers inform children about males and females and how a baby is born. In Key Stage 1, we teach children that animals, including humans, produce offspring, which grow into adults, and we also teach them about the main parts of the body. In Key Stage 2, we teach about life processes including reproduction and the main stages of the human life cycle, in greater depth.

Confidentiality

All RSE lessons are taught in a sensitive manner respecting the needs of all pupils. Our school will develop ground rules for lessons promoting a positive supportive learning environment. RSE lessons may lead to a disclosure from a pupil if this is the case staff are to follow our safeguarding/child protection policy informing the schools safeguarding lead if needed.

Parents/Carers

The school recognises the importance of parent's/carers involvement in RSE and encourage parents to understand what is taught to their child. The school also supports the parents' rights in requesting that their child does not take part in lessons. They are encouraged in the first instance to discuss this with PSHE lead/Head teacher to make it clear which aspects they are to be withdrawn from and confirm their request in writing.

Parental Transparency

Parents can view all curriculum learning materials on request, School is forbidden from signing agreements with external resource providers that restrict parental visibility.

The role of the PSHE lead/Head teacher

The PSHE lead monitor and reports on the effectiveness of the policy. It is the PSHE leads responsibility to ensure parents/carers and staff members are familiar with the policy. It is also their responsibility to ensure it is implemented effectively and that training is given where needed and to make staff aware of how to deal sensitively with issues should they arise.

Monitoring and Review

The delivery of RSE is monitored by Mr J Atherton, Headteacher through:

Planning meetings, reviews of curriculum, training Pupils' development in RSE is monitored by class teachers as part of our internal assessment systems. This policy will be reviewed by the headteacher/governors. At every review, the policy will be approved by the governing body. Governors are responsible for monitoring the RSE policy and give due consideration to any comments/queries raised by parents/carers. The head teacher is to keep a written record of any comments.

The policy is to be reviewed two yearly or earlier as the statutory guidance on RSE is published.
